Background

The UNESCO Associated Schools Network (ASPnet) links educational institutions across the world around a common goal: to build the defenses of peace in the minds of children and young people. The over 11,500 ASPnet member schools in 182 countries promote UNESCO’s values and principles and work in support of international understanding, peace and sustainable development. ASPnet contributes to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), with a particular focus on target 4.7 of SDG 4 - Education 2030, on global citizenship education (GCED) and education for sustainable development (ESD).

ASPnet serves UNESCO’s mandate and key functions, namely to act as a laboratory of ideas, to strengthen international and regional cooperation, to develop institutional and human capacities and to contribute to developing policies and setting standards. ASPnet contributes to the laboratory function by pioneering innovative and creative pedagogies to translate global concepts into practices at the school level and to advance the transformation of education systems and policies. As a global network, it fosters cooperation, knowledge sharing and partnerships among like-minded schools around the world.

In May 2018, following a two-year consultation process, UNESCO has published a new Guide for National Coordinators which clearly defines the mission and objectives of ASPnet in the context of the SDG agenda, as well as the rules and rules and regulations concerning membership and quality assurance.
The Event

Focus on Africa

➢ With funding from the Hainan Provincial Government, People’s Republic of China, UNESCO organizes the first Regional Capacity Development Workshop for ASPnet National Coordinators in Sub-Saharan Africa, in order to enable countries in the region to reinforce the work of their member institutions and to develop the potential of ASPnet to drive educational innovation.

International Context

➢ Under UNESCO’s Regular Budget, an Orientation Session for newly appointed National Coordinators of all regions is being organized simultaneously.

Objectives of the Meetings

• Introduce the new UNESCO Guide for National ASPnet Coordinators

• Strengthen the capacity of National Coordinators to support their schools in developing and implementing educational projects related to global citizenship, sustainable development and intercultural learning

• Train National Coordinators on the use of the Online Tool for ASPnet

• Introduce new ASPnet and UNESCO teaching materials

• Strengthen collaboration and networking within the African region and internationally

Day 2: Wednesday 27 June 2018

Study Visits to ASPnet schools in Windhoek  8:30 – 12:00

The school visits serve to gain closer insight on all aspects of an ASPnet schools’ life and to observe how ASPnet’s objectives, working and communication mechanisms are being put into practice.

A short profile of the selected schools is included in this brochure.

Upon arrival to schools, introductory presentations will be given by the Principal and responsible teachers and the visit will continue in a non-intrusive way to observe classes and activities as well as the school facilities.

Participants are invited to take notes for the plenary session Reflections on the School Visits in the afternoon.

Guiding questions for the visits:

What are the ASPnet action themes addressed in the schools? Do the schools display their ASPnet membership or UNESCO values and priorities on their premises? How are different members of the school community involved in ASPnet work, in and outside classrooms? Are there signs of student mobilisation and leadership? Do the schools entertain local partnerships and/or relations with other ASPnet members? Do they have IT equipment and connectivity? Do principals, teachers and students feel supported in their ASPnet work, and “connected” to the global network? How?

Session 4: ASPnet Projects and Activities  14:00 – 17:45

Group Discussions

Following a presentation on the Whole-school approach and Reflections on the school visits, participants will break into three groups in order to exchange around activities and resources related to the three ASPnet thematic action areas:

1. Global citizenship and a culture of peace and non-violence
2. Sustainable development and sustainable lifestyles
3. Intercultural learning and the appreciation of cultural diversity and heritage

There will be 3 group session of 45 minutes each so that every participant will go through all themes. A UNESCO staff will introduce and moderate the discussion in each group, and participants will be invited to share observations on the respective thematic area, around the following questions:

Is this theme relevant in my country? Is it more challenging than other thematic areas? Which activities/campaigns/events have been implemented? How can the whole school community be mobilised around this thematic area? Do ASPnet principals and teachers feel “equipped” to work on the theme? Is the government and public attentive to this theme and ASPnet’s activities in this area?

Please keep your intervention very short so that all participants can speak and ask questions. Exchanges can continue after the group sessions informally!
School Visits

Dawid Bezuidenhout High School

The school has been a member of the ASPnet since 1997. It is one of the four ASPnet schools in Windhoek, the Khomas region. Dawid Bezuidenhout High School is a government/public owned school with a total of 845 learners, with satisfactory gender balance. The school is working towards improving academic performance, and incorporates the UNESCO four pillars of learning in class and other extra-mural activities. Some of the school’s activities:

- Participation in the ASPnet Whole-school Approach to Climate Change project;
- Twinning with Carl Zeiss Oberschule in Berlin, Germany (ASPnet member); French connection and the British Connecting Classes;
- Currently hosting a group of ten learners and one teacher from Finland through the agreement with the Finnish Summer High School association since 2004. The workshop will take place from 18 June to 30th June 2018;
- Annual spelling bee, Debating and Junior Council.

The Waldorf School Windhoek

The school was founded in January 2000 by a group of active parents and is the first Rudolf Steiner School in Namibia. It started as an elementary school with 40 learners from grade one up to grade four. With the introduction of the Basic Vocational Education and Training (BVET) in the high school five years ago, the school got closer to its vision of a whole-day school. The school profile is a true mirror of the extreme economical differences in Namibia of high and low income brackets. The implementation of ASPnet objectives in the daily school life is already a part of day-to-day school life:

- To deepen knowledge, understanding and respect for other cultures. The school has incorporated Namibian languages such as Oshivambo or Khoekhoeegowab into the Primary School curriculum.
- Community-based learning through social practicals in the High School is an important tool to acquire understanding of social justice, gender equality, human rights, democratic and participatory systems, and health care (including HIV/AIDS).
- Through various projects, the learners engage in environmental awareness, cultural diversity, and skills development.
Communication and Media

Significant media outreach is planned around the event, due to its importance for promoting UNESCO ASPnet’s potential to drive educational innovation and to advance the transformation of educational systems and policy, especially in Sub-Saharan Africa. Both digital and traditional media will be mobilized to follow the activities during the three days.

Full video coverage of the event and photo sessions are organized in order to provide UNESCO and every participant with material for communication and media outreach during and after the event.

A press release announced the event and news articles will be posted through digital and printed media. Please reach out to media in your respective countries as well.

Radio and television interviews will take place with representatives from UNESCO and Namibia as well as participating National Coordinators and school representatives. The popular Breakfast Show “Good Morning Namibia” will host the organizers on 26th June.

The Social Media outreach will start from 23rd June and will engage all the participants to follow the event and share posts on Facebook https://www.facebook.com/UnescoAspnet/ and twitter @ASPnetUNESCO, Hashtags: #UNESCOASPnet, #capacity development, #SDGs, #Education2030
